COMMENT OVER CONTRACT FOR SCHOOL SUPPLIES

Some Think School Board Was Wrong In Matter Of Favoring The Highest Bidder When Lower Was a Home Man.

BOARD RATIFIES ACTION IN SECOND MEETING

Considerable comment, both favorable and unfavorable has been occasioned by the recent action of the Charleroi school board in awarding the contract for supplies for the school for the coming year to the highest bidder, Johnson Supply Co. of Pittsburgh rather than to the lowest bidder, George S. Might, who is a home man. The contract price with the Johnson company is $1125.14, in this list there being included all the necessary supplies in the way of tablets, pencils, blanks, examination papers, etc.

The contract was awarded at an adjourned meeting of the board last Friday night. Representatives of both houses were present with their bids and samples of their material was shown. Johnson's it is stated had his items totaled and Might had not. The board examined the samples, and the prices from each house, and finally ended by awarding the contract to the Johnson Supply Co. at the price of $1125.14, which is less 2 per cent. of the original amount, deducted by the representative for allowing his firm the entire contract. Might's price without the deduction of 2 per cent. was $1101.07. The members of the board claim that he did not make any offer to deduct the 2 per cent. that night, and although they did not go into the minutest details at the time, it was seen by them that the better grade of material was furnished by Johnson. On Tuesday night, the representatives again appeared it is said by the members of the board and the bids were fully totaled, but the matter not discussed. Wednesday night another session was held to look over the matter, and if a mistake had been made to rectify it. But the only thing done was to ratify the former action. The board upholds their action upon the superior quality of Johnson's material over that of Might's and claims that feature alone would make up for the amount which Mr. Might underbid Johnson.

As before said in their article the action is thought to have been unjust by some, who claim there is no inferiority in the goods which Mr. Might shows either in quality or quantity. Those who make that claim have examined the samples of both, and pronounce Might's the better, if anything, and in their eyes the more preferable. Then it is stated by the friends of the local dealer that the offer of 2 per cent. discount was really made but the board took no notice of the matter, saying it was too late. They say that no time was taken by the directors in going over the total of Mr. Might's bid, and on the whole do not think that the home dealer was given the square deal.

While much contention and bitter feeling is being caused by the above action of the board it is hoped that the matter will be cleared over without any further outbreaks.

COLORED MAN IS ARRESTED FOR MARIANNA MURDER

Suspected of the murder of Daniel O'Connor, which occurred at Marianna yesterday noon, James Ellison, alias James Milton, was arrested at Homestead, his home town yesterday, whence he is supposed to have fled after the shooting.

The man was arrested by Detective Wallace Hilton. Milton passed through Monongahela, on his way to Homestead from Marianna yesterday, at the fact that he was wanted by the authorities was not known.

He was arrested at the instigation of Coroner Sipe and will be held to await the result of the inquest. He is now in the Monongahela lockup.

It is learned this afternoon that another colored man by the name of Robert Lincoln had been arrested in connection with the murder. Suspicion now rests upon him as the one who did the shooting more so than on Ellison. A hearing will be given the man tonight.

J. T. Dorsey, principal of the northern Department of Drug & Business college and superintendent of the correspondence school left today for his home in Smith Grove, Ky. While here Prof. Dorsey made many friends who are sorry to see him leave.

WONSETLER WILL CASE IS AGAIN BEING CONTESTED

The W. K. Wonsetler will case which has been bitterly contested in the Washington county courts is again stirred up through the filing by legal representatives of his daughter, Mrs. Susanna Knestrick, of what they claim is the last will and testament. The new will was found in a safe deposit vault in the Citizens National bank of Washington.

The annulment of the former will filed was a victory for Mrs. Knestrick. The will shortly after Mr. Wonsetler's death was asked by his daughter on the ground that the father was not of a sound mind at the time the instrument was drawn. The Evangelical Lutheran church was one of the beneficiaries. To the will now unearthed, which was made January 18, 1902, and witnessed by J. M. McBurney and J. C. Ewing, there are three codicils that effect material changes in the original. In the last codicil, which is now witnessed and was made November 20, 1906, Demas Wonsetler Seemery Hill and N. R. Baker cashier of the Citizens National bank of Washington are named as executors. All previous appointments are revoked.

In the original will, James M. Paul and Solomon Wonsetler are named as executors. In the first codicil J. M. F. Hana is substituted for Solomon Wonsetler as executor. Owing to the codicils it is difficult to tell just what bequests are made.

An interesting feature is that dis-

CLARKSBURG WINS OUT

Moguls Heavy Hitters Get In Work At Expense Of Osborne.

By heavy hitting and the superior pitching of Fletcher, a new recruit from Wheeling, the Clarksburg bunch yesterday took a fast game from the Cherubs, 4 to 2. (Osborne who twirled for Charleroi was hit hard and the Drummers took every advantage, playing line inside ball.)

Fletcher did not allow a Celestial to reach third until the eighth inning when two doubles and a single sent two runs over the pan. These were the only scores made by Charleroi, although they made a strong bid for two more in the same inning when "Bill" Hauser landed one to left field fence. Cy Dawson distinguished himself by a long run and sensational catch thus robbing Charleroi of two runs which would have resulted.

Clarksburg scored in the first inning by hits and again in the third. In the sixth by hard work they chased another around the circuit and repeated the occurrence in the next inning.

DRAW UP RESOLUTION

Students Must Take Examination To Enter High School Commercial Department.

The school board has adopted a resolution concerning the placing of students in the High School Commercial Department at Douglas College, so that from now on all who wish to take that course must first attend high school proper for one year at least. Last year about thirty persons from the eighth grade went to Douglas Business College, to take the Commercial course under ruling which provided for their entrance there. They are to get through in two years while those in the high school proper must spend three years. It was partially this that occasioned the action. The resolution follows:

Resolved—That the Board is of the opinion that the qualifications of an Eighth grade pupil are not sufficient preparation to enter upon a business course.

Therefore, be it forthwith resolved that hereafter the Board shall require all Eighth grade pupils desiring to take a business course to pass a satisfactory examination in the first year's work in high school.

C. E. CONVENTION DRAWS MANY PEOPLE

The nineteenth annual convention of the Washington County Christian Endeavor association opened last evening at Burgetstown with a very interesting meeting. The address of welcome was made by Walter Kennedy, and the response by Clarence Houston, of Washington. The address of the evening was made by Rev. George C. Sheppard, D. D., pastor of the Washington M. P. church. His subject was "Ideals for Young Americans." Rev. E. A. Cole will make an address today. There are a number of delegates from Washington county societies present.

HOLDING THE BABY.

Introducing a Nice Point in Baby Carriage Etiquette.

"That fellow doesn't know the first thing about the etiquette of the baby carriage," remarked one of a group of men at Thirty-first and Main streets. The comment was made to all in a general way. One of the group, the man with a frayed collar and a look of patient resignation, gazed anxiously at a couple about to board a car. The mother was sparing in a desperate sort of way with one of those baby carriages which shop salesmen can open and close in a minute and the users in from five to thirty minutes.

"Don't see anything wrong with that," said the man with the frayed collar. "He's got to hold the baby even if she does have to wrestle with the carriage. You don't think he ought to hold the baby and take care of the carriage, too, do you?"

"Well, there's one thing sure," rejoined the objector—"the man doesn't know a thing about baby carriage etiquette. What you want to do is this: If the baby weighs more than the carriage, it's the man's place to hold the baby. If the carriage weighs more, he should hand the baby to his wife."

"Oh, piffle!" interpolated the man with the black cigar. "You're way off. What he ought to do is to hand the baby to his wife and the carriage to the conductor."—Kansas City Star

DOUGLAS BUSINESS COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Nineteen Young Men And Women Receive Diplomas Last Night For Faithful Work During Term Of Study—Rev. Hall Addresses Class.

YOUNG PERFORMERS WIN FOR THEMSELVES CREDIT

The class of '08, Douglass Business college held their commencement exercises in the School Hall last evening, the young performers very creditably acquitting themselves. The hall was well packed with parents and friends of the graduates, many having to stand.

The program was carried out without a hitch or disagreeable occurrence to mar the rare pleasure of the evening. Rev. Boblitt delivered the invocation in a few well chosen words.

The salutatorian, Miss Alice Edna Neil welcomed the friends who were present. She spoke briefly of the opportunities that were before the class.

The touch typewriting exhibition by Misses Anna Jane Jones, Sarah Catherine Lenhart, and Elsie Jane Ward was something out of the ordinary and well demonstrated what could be done by the application of one's self towards something which it is desired should be accomplished. The class biographer, Miss Minnie Mears gave some spicy items of history concerning the class and each member as well as the superintendent and instructors.

The valedictorian Robert T. McGowan, handled his subject, "Onward and Upward" in a good manner. He told what makes success and a happy life, and then treated the opposite, failure, telling how a man of his own volition may be either a success or a failure.

Rev. W. W. Hall, of Pittsburg addressed the class. His subject was, "The Sunny Side of the Street." Contained in his discourse was some rules of everyday conduct etc, which if lived up to by all would mean a very happy world for us. He scored the pessimistic man to a finish while lauding the person with a sunny disposition, to the skies. Dr. Hall eulogized Abraham Lincoln, regarding him as a model man. He ended his address by exhorting the class to work for success, but not to ever forget to be of a cheerful disposition.

The presentation of the diplomas was made by Prof. Warren Douglass. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Frontz.

The music for commencement was furnished by Miss Sarah Allshouse, vocalist and Miss Janet McIlroy, violinist. Mr. McIlroy, a brother of the latter was the accompanist. Miss McIlroy who is but a girl of perhaps sixteen years is an accomplished musician. Her work last night was most pleasing, she being repeatedly encouraged. Miss Allshouse's work was also of a superior order.

ASSESSMENT OF COAL LAND IS MUCH TOO HIGH

Judges McIlvaine and Taylor, sitting in argument court yesterday heard appeals of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company, the Pittsburgh-Westmoreland Coal company, and J. G. Patterson, an extensive coal owner from the triennial assessment. These parties claim their coal is assessed entirely too high and have taken the matter into court in the hope of getting a reduction. Lloyd and E. E. Crumrine represent the appellants, and County Solicitor James I. Brownson the county. The county commissioners were all present at the hearing. Considerable testimony was taken. The commissioners were closely examined as to how they placed a value on the coal in various parts of the county in making the final adjustments after the assessor had returned their books.

Miss Emma Holyfield left this morning for Niagara Falls where she will spend the summer. She was accompanied to Pittsburgh by her mother, Mrs. C. C. Holyfield.

L. Collins is a Pittsburg business visitor today.

A Proper Move

Chairman Anderson of the Republican County Committee made a very wise move when he increased the number of Committeemen to twenty-five.
The man must be very blind indeed who cannot see that the Drug Store Dynasty is busy, night and day, making preparation to defeat the Republican ticket in Washington county this Fall.

It has even gone so far that its president has sent out the figures showing how its combination with the Democrats and Prohibitionists can and will defeat the Republican ticket this Fall.
Any person who thinks that the Drug Store Dynasty is idle and that the Republican ticket this Fall will get the usual majority will be rudely awakened from his delusions ere the first is on the punkin'.

They will be in the midst of organized hysteria, carried on with the emotional zeal of a crusade, inspired and financed by the Dynasty for reasons of personal grudge and political ambition and which will be indifferent to the means, clear only to the end, that of running what it cannot rule. All the hate which baffled ambition is capable will have full swing. If there be those who think different they are sadly mistaken and Chairman Anderson is going to be prepared for it by having vigilant and faithful Republicans on guard at all points.

Of course the campaign instigated and paid for by the Dynasty is going to be a humiliating failure under those conditions and will prove a boomerang to all concerned in it, and those who think the Dynasty is actuated by any other motive save that of revenge are deluding themselves as they will find out when too late.

Somewhat Surprised.

It is stated that the West Penn street railway company will put on new and larger cars to replace the midgets now in use. It is also stated that the officials have been on a tour through Ohio, Indiana and Illinois inspecting the cars used upon electric roads in those States.

It must have surprised them to find palace, sleeper, and dining cars on the trolley lines out there which in appointments and luxuriosity are not excelled on any steam road. When they noticed the fine accommodations furnished to local passengers their own cars when compared to them were as a wren's egg under a shanghai hen.

The Difference.

Collier's Weekly made a savage attack upon Senator Penrose. Collier's was a staunch supporter, defender and apologist of William T. Jerome, the most colossal disappointment in office this century thus far produced. If you took Collier's word for it, Jerome was the epitome of human virtue. He was "clean," "vigorous," "dant-less," "sleeples," "eloquent," a terror and the nightmare of criminals, etc., ad nauseum.

Jerome proved to be the cheapest kind of a bluffer and grandstand player, who either because of his puny attempts or total neglect, failed to fulfill a single thing he so vainly proclaimed he was going to do. If law meant justice Jerome would be in the penitentiary as an accessory both before and after the fact. He is of the type of failure Collier makes a business of trying to boost into office, through fulsome panegyrics upon a person who is utterly destitute of the qualities it ascribe to him. Its demigods have proved to be satyrs always.
Pennsylvanians would entertain serious doubts as to Senator Penrose's ability and integrity were he in Collier class, which makes a platitude about a duty instead of performing a duty.

Four Foolish Delegates.

Pennsylvania had four foolish delegates at the Republican national convention, one of them, unfortunately,
from the Twenty-Fourth district Emery, who is not a Republican, and really had no right to a seat in a Republican convention, was expected to do something to keep up his reputation as a "knocker." He did not disappoint any of his enemies. The three other foolish gentlemen persisted in voting for Roosevelt. And will Roosevelt thank them? In after years when the history of the present strenuous era is written, the historian looking among the archives of the convention to get some clue to the attitude of the people upon the policies of Roosevelt, will find that out of nearly one thousand delegates elected by the Republicans to voice their sentiments, only three of them were for Roosevelt. Of course, we who are familiar with all the incidents of that convention will know differently,—we will understand that Roosevelt could have been nominated had he said the word, but the historian of future generations, with nothing to guide him but the cold hard-hearted records of the convention, will see that Taft had 702 delegates and Roosevelt only 2; therefore his natural inference will be that the Republicans repudiated their leader and turned to another in the thick of the conflict. Do you think Roosevelt will appreciate such fool friends?—Washington Journal sinning;

On thy head the guilt.

Umpire, how couldst thou have been

Safe he was and ill thou reckoned;
On thy head the guilt.

Umpire, flimsily fumbled badly: Muffengrabbt played but sadly, But we witnesses cried madly,
"On thy head the guilt."

Umpire, though our pitcher tossed them, Though our catcher dodged and lest

Thy sins were the ones which cost

On thy head the guilt.

Umpire, each cause hath its martyr Who can never hope to barter Merely good intent for quarter;
On thy head the guilt.

Umpire, though we flay and flout thee,
Though forever we will doubt thee,
What would baseball be without thee?
On thy head the guilt.

"Without a hitch."
"Glad to hear it."
"I said without a hitch. The bride

Not Written.
"How do you write 'horn'?" asked the teacher of a small boy at the black-

POINTING THE BONE.

Queer Superstition of the Native Blacks of Australia.

The native blacks of Australia are steeped in superstition. A black fellow will on no account go near the spot where another black has been buried.
He has a deep rooted aversion to one particular bird—the wagtail—because, he says, "him all day talk, talk along a white feller, tellum all about black feller," and no opportunity is lost of killing these little birds.

Many tribes "bury" their dead by sticking them up into the forks of trees and there leaving them till the flesh has either dropped or been taken, leaving the bones clean. These bones are then taken down, the larger ones buried and the smallest landed round as keepsakes to those nearly related to the deceased. Should one black fellow wish the death of a rival or enemy he points the bone at him. This means that he takes one of his late re-lation's bones from his dilly bag and points it, to the presence of witnesses, at the man he wishes to get rid of, all the time pouring forth threats and curses.

Strange as it may seem, the one pointed at will often languish and eventually die, perhaps in a month, perhaps in a year, for no sooner is the bone pointed than he makes up his mind to die, and there is no saving him.—London Standard.

Not Entirely.

Moe Rose—Do you think the automobile is replacing the horse? Joe Cose—Well, not entirely, anyway. I haven't found automobile in my bologan as yet.—Browning's Magazine.

ters?"
"There were no letters. I'm going to

Among the Exchanges

The utter necessity of the rigid enforcement of the anti-spitting law with regard to public health is manifested by the action of the State Society for the prevention of the tuberculosis. One of the reasons given by the societies for the rapid advancement of the diseases is that there has been too much leniency on the part of municipalities which regard to the habit of spitting on the sidewalks in public conveyances and public places. The society has adopted rigid regulations with regard to this manner and literature is being sent broadcast over the country warning people of the great dangers of the habit and urging city authorities to take the matter in hand in an effort to lend every possible assistance in stamping out tuberculosis and other infectious diseases. Good results have been obtained. Many cities and towns have passed anti-spitting ordinances and are having them rigidly enforced.
Street car companies are putting a ban on the careless and filthy habit and railroad companies are also cooperating in the campaign.—Mon-essen Independent.

It is said that a certain graduate of Washington and Jefferson college in sending out his invitations to the commencement exercises inscribed upon the back of his personal card these words: "No Presents." These two words, not odd ones to be sure, and common every day parts of the English language carry with them in reference to this occasion more than the average reader grasps. They stand for much in this great annual college event and beyond peradventure of a doubt they bring relief and infinite satisfaction to hundreds who find time to attend the festivities that start their friends upon a worldly career of success or dire disappointment—failure.

All over this mundane sphere in a greater or less degree this custom of commencement which is in vogue is not really a commencing but an ending so far as certain lines of instruction are concerned. But this is not the phase which makes great the simple words inscribed upon the one graduate's card, we say one, for we have knowledge of but one and only one member of the 1908 class of Washington and Jefferson college who was thoughtful enough to place these
"seemingly meaningless" words in such a place that the recipient of the invitation might see and be guided accordingly.—Washington Journal.

Making More Than

a Living

Nearly every man who works steadily makes more than a living. During these slow times the men who have saved something appreciate what it is to have something laid away for a rainy day. A few cents a day soon counts up, and when savings are placed in a bank at a tidy interest the sum soon grows to proportions that make it a safeguard against want when work is not plentiful. Figure up how much more than a living you are making now, and place the difference in this bank.

COMMENT OVER CONTRACT FOR SCHOOL SUPPLIES

Some Think School Board Was Wrong In Matter Of Favoring The Highest Bidder When Lower Was a Home Man.

Considerable comment, both favorable and unfavorable has been occasioned by the recent action of the Charleroi School Board in awarding the contract for supplies for the school for the coming year to the highest bidder, Johnson Supply Co. of Pittsburgh rather than to the lowest bidder, George S. Might, who is a home man.

The contract price with the Johnson company is $1125.14, in this bid there being included all the necessary supplies in the way of tablets, pencils, blank examination papers, etc.

The contract was awarded at an adjourned meeting of the board last Friday night. Representatives of both houses were present with their bids and samples of their material was shown. Johnson's bid is stated to have been $1125.14, and Might's bid was $109.67. The members of the board claim that he did not make any offer to deduct the 2 per cent. that night, and although they did not go into the minutest details at the time, it was seen by them that the better grade of material was

As before said in their article the action is thought to have been unjust by some, who claim there is no inferiority in the goods which Mr. Might shows either in quality or quantity. Those who make that claim have examined the samples of both, and pronounce Might's the better, if anything, and in their eyes the more preferable. Then it is stated by the friends of the local dealer that the offer of 2 per cent. discount was really made but the board took no notice of the matter, saying it was too late. They say that no time was taken by the directors in going over the total of Mr. Might's bid, and on the whole do not think that the home dealer was given the square deal.

While much contention and bitter feeling is being caused by the above action of the board it is hoped that the matter will be claimed over without any further outbreaks.

COLORED MAN IS ARRESTED FOR MARIANNA MURDER

Suspected of the murder of Daniel O'Connor, which occurred at Marianna yesterday noon, James Ellison, alias James Milton, was arrested at Homestead, his home town yesterday, whence he is supposed to have fled after the shooting.

The man was arrested by Detective Wallace Hilton. Milton passed through Monongahela on his way to Homestead from Marianna yesterday, the fact that he was wanted by the authorities was not known.

He was arrested at the instigation of Coroner Sipe and will be held to await the result of the inquest. He is now in the Monongahela lockup.

It is learned this afternoon that another colored man by the name of Robert Lincoln had been arrested in connection with the murder. Suspicion now rests upon him as the one who did the shooting more so than on Ellison. A hearing will be given the man tonight.

J. T. Dorsey, principal of the Northland Department of Douglas Business College and superintendent of the correspondence school left today for his home in Smith Grove, Ky. While here Prof. Dorsey made many friends who are sorry to see him leave.

CLARKSBURG WINS OUT

Moguls Heavy Hitters Get In Work At Expense Of Osborne,

By heavy hitting and the superior pitching of Fletcher, a new recruit from Wheeling, the Clarksburg bunch yesterday took a fast game from the Cherubs, 4 to 2. Osborne who twirled for Charleroi was hit hard and the Drummers took every advantage, playing fine inside ball.

Fletcher did not allow a Celestial to reach third until the eighth inning when two doubles and a single sent two runs over the pan. These were the only scores made by Charleroi, although the locals were strong for two more in the same inning when "Bill" Huber landed one to left field fence. Cy Dawson distinguished himself by a long run and sensational catch thus robbing Charleroi of two runs which would have resulted.

Clarksburg scored in the first inning by hits and again in the third. In the sixth by hard work they chased another around the circuit and repeated the occurrence in the next inning.

DRAW UP RESOLUTION

Students Must Take Examination to Enter High School Commercial Department.

The school board has adopted a resolution concerning the placing of students in the High School Commercial Department at Douglas College, so that from now on all who wish to take that course must attend high school proper for one year at least. Last year about thirty persons from the eighth grade went to Douglas Business College, to take the Commercial course under ruling which provided for their entrance there. They are to get through in two years while those in the High School proper must spend three years. It was partially this that occasioned the action. The resolution follows:

Resolved—That the Board is of the opinion that the qualifications of an Eighth grade pupil are not sufficient preparation to enter upon a business course.

Therefore, be it forthwith resolved that hereafter the Board shall require all Eighth grade pupils desiring to take a business course to pass a satisfactory examination in the first year's work in high school.

C. E. CONVENTION DRAWS MANY PEOPLE

The nineteenth annual convention of the Washington County Christian Endeavor association opened last evening at Burgetstown with a very interesting meeting. The address of welcome was made by Walter Kennedy, and the response by Clarence Houston, of 1 Washington. The address of the evening was made by Rev. George C. Sheppard, D. D., pastor of the Washington M. P. church. His subject was "Ideals for Young Americans." Rev. E. A. Cole will make an address today. There are a number of delegates from Washington county societies present.

HOLDING THE BABY.

Introducing a Nice Point in Baby Carriage Etiquette. "That fellow doesn't know the first thing about the etiquette of the baby carriage," remarked one of a group of men at Thirty-first and Main streets. The comment was made to all in a general way. One of the group, the man with a frayed collar and a look of patient resignation, gazed anxiously at a couple about to board a car. The mother was spurring in a desperate sort of way with one of those baby carriages which shop salesmen can open and close in a minute and the users is from five to thirty minutes.

"Don't see anything wrong with that," said the man with the frayed collar. "He's got to hold the baby even if she does have to wrestle with the carriage. You don't think he ought to hold the baby and take care of the carriage, too, do you?"

"Well, there's one thing sure," rejoined the objector—"the man doesn't know a thing about baby carriage etiquette. What you want to do is this: If the baby weighs more than the carriage, it's the man's place to hold the baby. If the carriage weighs more, he should hand the baby to his wife."

"Oh, piffle!" interpolated the man with the big black cigar. "You're way off. What he ought to do is to hand the baby to his wife and the carriage to the conductor."—Kansas City Star

DOUGLAS BUSINESS COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

The class of '08, Douglass Business college held their commencement exercises in the School Hall last evening, the young performers very creditably acquitting themselves. The hall was well packed with parents and friends of the graduates, many having to stand.

The program was carried out without a hitch or disagreeable occurrence to mark the rare pleasure of the evening. Rev. Booth delivered the invocation in a few well chosen words.

The salutatorian, Miss Alice Edna Neil welcomed the friends who were present. She spoke briefly of the opportunities that were before the class.

The touch typewriting exhibition by Misses Anna Jane Jones, Sarah Catherine Lenhart, and Elsie Jane Ward was something out of the ordinary and well demonstrated what could be done by the application of one's self towards something which it is desired should be accomplished. The class biographer, Miss Minnie Mears gave some spicy items of history concerning the class and each member as well as the superintendent and instructors.

told what makes success and a happy life, and then treated the opposite, failure, telling how a man of his own failure.

Rev. W. W. Hall, of Pittsburgh addressed the class. His subject was, "The Sunny Side of the Street." Contained in his discourse was some rules of everyday conduct etc., which if lived up to by all would mean a very happy world for us. He scored the pessimistic man to a finish while leading the person with a sunny disposition to the skies. Dr. Hall eulogized Abraham Lincoln, regarding him as a model man. He ended his address by exhorting the class to work for success, but not to ever forget to be of a cheerful disposition.

The presentation of the diplomas was made by Prof. Warren Douglass. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Frontz.

The music for commencement was furnished by Miss Sarah Allhouse vocalist and Miss Janet McIlroy, violinist. Mr. McIlroy, a brother of the latter was the accompanist. Miss McIlroy who is but a girl of perhaps sixteen years is an accomplished musician. Her work last night was most pleasing, she being repeatedly encouraged. Miss Allhouse's work was also of a superior order.

ASSESSMENT OF COAL LAND IS MUCH TOO HIGH

Judges McIlvaine and Taylor, sitting in argument court yesterday heard appeals of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company, the Pittsburgh-Westmoreland Coal company, and J. G. Patterson, an extensive coal owner from the triennial assessment. These parties claim their coal is assessed entirely too high and have taken the matter into court in the hope of getting a reduction. Boyd and E. E. Crumrine represent the appellants, and County Solicitor James I. Brownson the county. The county commissioners were all present at the hearing. Considerable testimony was taken. The commissioners were closely examined as to how they placed a value on the coal in various parts of the county in making the final adjustments after the assessor had returned their books.

Miss Emma Holyfield left this morning for Niagara Falls where she will spend the summer. She was accompanied to Pittsburgh by her mother, Mrs. C. C. Holyfield.

L. Collins is a Pittsburgh business visitor today.

PICNIC OF ST. JEROMES SUNDAY SCHOOL AT PARK

The Sunday School of St. Jerome's church yesterday picnicked at Eldora all kinds, for all sizes, from the little fellow who was hardly more than able to toddle on to his uncles and aunts. Prizes were awarded the winners in each event. At the conclusion of the sporting events of the day the photographer took a picture of all. ## A Proper Move

Chairman Anderson of the Republican County Committee made a very
ber of Committeemen to twenty-five.
The man must be very blind indeed
who cannot see that the Drug Store Dynasty is busy, night and day, making preparations to defeat the Republican ticket in Washington county this Fall.

It has even gone so far that its president has sent out the flowers showing how its combination with the Democrats and prohibitionists can and will
defeat the Republican ticket this Fall.
Any person who thinks that the Drug
Republican ticket has run will get the usual majority will be rudely
awakened from his delusions ere the frost is on the pumpkin.

zeal of a crusade, inspired and financed
by the Dynasty for reasons of personal spite and political chagrin, and which
only to the end, that of ruining what it cannot rule. All the hate which battered abolition is capable will have followed. If there be those who think different they are sadly mistaken
faithful Republicans on guard at all points.

to be a humiliating failure under those
to all concerned in it, and those who
out when too late.

Somewhat Surprised.

It is stated that the West Penn
new and larger cars to replace the
through Ohio Indiana and Illinois inspecting the cars used upon electric
roads in those States.

It must have surprised them to find general indignation and "Ting" on the trolley lines out there, which in appointments and luxuries are not excelled on any steam road. When
cars when compared to them were as a
wren's egg under a shanghai hen.

The Difference.

Collier's Weekly made a savage at-
was a staunch supporter, defender and apologist of William T. Jerome, the
this century thus far produced. If you took Collier's word for it, Jerome was the epitome of human virtues. He was "clean," "vigorous," "dauntless," "sleepless," "eloquent," a terror and the nightmare of criminals, etc., ad nauseum.

Jerome proved to be the cheapest
kind of a bluffer and grandstand player, who either because of his pury attempts or total neglect, failed to fulfill a single thing he so vauntingly proclaimed he was going to do. If
law meant justice Jerome would be in
the type of failure Colliers makes a business of trying to boost into office,
through fulsome panegyrics upon a person who is utterly devoid of the qualities it ascribe to him. Its demigods have proved to be satyrs always.
Pennsylvanians would entertain serious
doubts as to Senator Penrose's ability and integrity were he in Collier's class, which makes a platitude about a duty
instead of performing a duty.

Four Foolish Delegates.

Pennsylvania had four foolish delegates at the Republican national convention, one of them, unfortunately,
from the Twenty-Fourth district.
really had no right to a seat in a Republican convention, was expected to do something to keep up his reputation as a "knocker." He did not disappoint any of his enemies. The three other foolish gentlemen persisted in voting for Roosevelt. And will Roosevelt thank them? In after
years when the history of the present
looking among the archives of the convention to get some clue to the attitude of the people upon the policies
nearly one thousand delegates elected
by the Republicans to voice their sen-
Roosevelt. Of course, we who are
erations, with nothing to guide him
the convention, will see that Taft had 702 delegates, and Roosevelt only 3;
therefore his natural inference will be
that the Republicans repudiated their
thick of the conflict. Do you think
tricks? Washington Journal.

POINTING THE BONE.

Queer Superstition of the Native Boschs of Australia.

steeped in superstition. A black fellow
will on no account go near the spot where another black has been buried.
particular bird—the wagtail—because,
killing these little birds.

trees and leaving them till the flesh has either dropped or been taken,
leaving the bones clean. These bones
buried and the smallest handed round
to the deceased. Should one black fellow wish the death of a rival or enemy he points the bone at him. This means that he takes one of his late re-lation's bones from his dilly bag and points it, in the presence of witnesses, at the man he wishes to get rid of, all
curses.

Strange as it may seem, the one
pointed at will often languish and
eventually die, perhaps in a month, perhaps in a year, for no sooner is the
bone pointed than he makes up his
him.—London Standard.

Among the Exchanges.

The utter necessity of the rigid en- forcement of the anti-spitting law with regard to public health is manifested by the action of the State Society for the prevention of the tuberculosis. One of the reasons given by the societies for the rapid advance-

part of municipalities which regard to
in public conveyances and public
places. The society has adopted rigid regulations with regard to this manner and literature is being sent broad-
passed anti-spitting ordinances and
are having them rigidly enforced.
Street car companies are putting a
and railroad companies are also co-
operating in the campaign.—Mon-
essen Independent.

sending out his invitations to the commencement exercises inscribed
upon the back of his personal card
these words: "No Presents." These
English language carry with them in reference to this occasion more than
stand for much in this great annual
college event and beyond peradventure
of a doubt they bring relief and in-imate satisfaction to hundreds who find time to attend the festivities that
start their friends upon a worldly
career of success or dire disappointment—failure.

commencement which is in vogue is
not really a commencing but an ending so far as certain lines of instruction are concerned. But this is not the phase which makes great the simple words inscribed upon the one graduate's card, we say ere, for we have known of but one and only one member of the 1905 class of Washington and Jefferson college who was
accordingly.—Washington Journal.

a Living

readily makes more than a living. During these slow times
have something laid away for a rainy day. A few cents a day
soon counts up, and when savings are placed in a bank at a tiny interest the sum soon grows
work is not plentiful. Figure
up how much more than a living
the difference in this bank.
Four per cent. interest paid in
